In Justice Court.—Frank Carr was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging him with assault and battery on Henry Wyman. Before Justice of the Peace Goodman he pleaded guilty and was fined $12, which he paid. Carr is second mate of the schooner A. F. Coats.

No Truth in Report.—A report was in circulation yesterday that Mayor Wise intended to order the town "closed." When queried last night concerning the matter he said, "The report is totally false, and I have no intention of taking any such drastic action. There are many more important and urgent matters for me to consider than this."

On a Happy Quest.—Mrs. Charles L. Houston, of this city, departed for the metropolis on last evening's express, to be present today, at noon, at the wedding of her brother, Mr. Homer Fletcher, and Miss Helen E. Thomas, of Sacramento, California. The ceremony will take place at Trinity Episcopal church, and at its conclusion the happy couple will leave Portland for their new home at Hoquiam, Washington.

In Police Court.—A quartet of prisoners greeted Judge Anderson yesterday afternoon in police court, all but one offender being there for becoming too disorderly and creating a rougher house, than usual, in one of the saloons on Astor street. One of the prisoners, the immediate cause of all the trouble, was a young girl, and two Finnish fishermen were the trouble makers. The girl was fined $40, and in default of the required amount was committed to jail. John Anderson and Peter Helm, the fishermen, received fines of $10 and $15 each, respectively. The story of the affair as told through Officer Oberg, acting in the capacity of interpreter, was in effect, that the girl had been mistreated by the bar tender of the saloon, and Anderson and Helm had attempted to take vengeance on the person of the bartender, which ended in a general mixup, a good deal of strong language, and the subsequent arrest and lockup of the trio. Neils Narwin, after being in jail two days on a charge of drunkenness, was given a hearing today, and fined $5, sentence being suspended in consideration of the fact that he had already been punished enough. Four other persons forfeited $5 bail respectively for their non appearance.

In Two Short Hours.—The Hotel Committee, in two short hours yesterday succeeded handsomely in their quest for funds wherewith to meet the cost of the new hotel site that Astoria is to give the founders of the splendid modern hostelry in this city. The committee collected the following sum in that brief period from the following public spirited citizens: S. Elmore, $250; F. J. Taylor, $100; Frank L. Parker, $100; Herman Wise, $100; John E. Gratke, $100; G. C. Fulton, $100; John Fox, $100; G. W. Sanborn, $100; E. N. Baker, $100; G. H. George, $50; and S. Danziger & Company, $50. This makes a notable beginning of the good work and the committee is heartily encouraged with the showing, nor will they abate their mission until adequate figure is on hand to face the new promising situation. Of course they have come across the inevitable knocker; he is perennial and omnipresent, and his little hammer is going uninterruptedly, but even some of them gave, after they had done their essential little stunt, and at noon yesterday there was a round $1500 to the good of the cause, and the rest "a-comin'."

Cheerful News.—There is a prospect of the rebuilding of Fishers' opera house in this city. Messrs. Fisher Brothers having been approached by a certain gentleman from Spokane with a proposition to restore the burned building and put it in thorough shape, for the new season, with the privilege of renting and managing it after it shall be in order. The negotiations involve the expenditure of a sum approaching $14,000, of which the negotiator is willing to put up $8000 and the balance to be furnished by the owners of the property. It will be an excellent thing if this is all carried out, as, next to a hotel, there is nothing needed so badly, in the way of public utilities, as a first-class theater. Good luck to the proposal. The party's name is withheld until the matter has progressed to a finality of some sort.

Lively at Seaside.—Business conditions are very lively at present in Seaside and there are a large number of structures being erected, both residences and for business enterprises. Among the buildings just completed or in process of construction is the new electric light plant, which will be ready for operations by the first of next month; a steam laundry is now being constructed; there is a new bank; two up-to-date bakeries, and a harness shop. All these things shows that Seaside is coming to the front. The big six hundred foot pier is fast nearing completion, and will be one of the main attractions hereafter.

Donate Lumber.—Representing all the lumber mills in town, the City Lumber & Box Company yesterday informed the park commission that all the lumber needed for the erection of the band stand on the park property would be given free by it. Work is progressing very satisfactorily on the park improvement, and the good work is to be continued until Astoria has a beautiful park.

Will Speak Tonight.—Tonight at the Salvation Army headquarters there will be an address by a commercial traveler, who is in the city, and desires to relate his experience. Every one is cordially invited to attend and listen to him speak.

The handsome little Columbine leaves at 5 o'clock this morning for a four-day cruise, carrying supplies of all sorts to lightships Nos. 67 and 76, to Destruction Island, Cape Flattery and Neah Bay. She expects to be at the latter point tonight.

Done in Probate.—An order was made in probate court yesterday by Judge Trenchard, approving the final account of Executor Frank Spittle of the estate of Michael Sharp, deceased, discharging said executor, and releasing all connected therewith from further responsibility.

To Stop Sliding Ground.—The sliding ground on the bank of the water commission's property at the city reservoir, will be repaired this week by Contractor Gerding, who will commence work today. As it now is the water has loosened the dirt so that the bank has caved into the road.

The delicate art of frescoing is only learned by years of hard tutelage under expert masters. Each of the proprietors the Eastern Painting & Decorating Co., 75 Ninth street, has spent years in the best shops of the east and is proficient in the art of decorating and frescoing.

Funeral Yesterday.—The funeral of the late George Hendrickson, the fisherman drowned from the net racks of the Sanborn-Cutting Company, took place yesterday morning from the Pohl funeral parlors, Rev. L. J. Trumbull of the First Baptist Church officiating. The interment was in Greenwood cemetery.

Very Small Business.—For years past it has been the custom of the senior class of the Astoria High School to hoist its class flag on the staff of the building, and keep it aloft during the exams and graduation period, and this they did a few days ago, in conformity with the time-honored practice; but someone, with a poor sense of fun, or a witless idea of "doing something," has deliberately purloined the banner and concealed it. Such an act is neither genuine skylarking, nor a manly case of reprisal. It would be well to restore the class emblem, even if it has to be done surreptitiously, and he spared the confusion of discovery.

There is no change in the situation on the waterfront at San Francisco and the strike among the coasting sailors is still maintained. Yesterday the steam schooner Sea Foam succeeded in getting some men to take the places of the union sailors who left and the vessel sailed for Mendocino. The Umatilla arrived yesterday there from Seattle, and was manned by a non-union crew, and if the men remained on board it is probable they will be shifted to the steamer Queen, thus allowing that steamer to sail for the north on her scheduled date. It is reported that the Pacific Coast Steamship Company is bringing from Alaska about 100 Chilkat Indians to take the place of the union sailors. They will also be used as guards on the docks of the company.
